

Emerging Leaders Alliance

PARTNERS

Society of Exploration Geophysicists
The international society of applied geophysics

AIME Member Societies:

Supported by a grant from the United Engineering Foundation

Emerging Leaders Alliance

---

Providing Leadership
Training
Essentials for Select
Engineering
Professionals

---

EmergingLeadersAlliance.org

ELA Workshop

Participants acquire tools and skills to:

- accelerate emerging leaders in their careers
- inspire them into key leadership roles within their professional Society
- communicate the criticality of cross-disciplinary collaboration and systems thinking to address global challenges and effectively compete in the 21st century.

Custom training for engineering and scientific professionals including:

- online preparatory modules
- in-person Capstone Workshop
- follow-on community of practice and alumni communications

2011 Workshop Sessions

- Personal Vision: Becoming an Indispensable Leader
- Social Styles
- Leveraging Multiple Generations in the Workplace
- Critical Thinking and Problem Solving
- Putting People First
- Ethicana
- Change Management
- Boundary Spanning Leadership to Drive Innovation
- Global and Virtual Team Leadership

Why is the ELA Important?

The National Academy of Engineering's "The Engineer of 2020" report says engineers will have a wide range of complementary, non-technical skills. Society will need them to address "real problems facing mankind," including energy, sustainability and healthcare.

There is no other comparative U.S. program that provides the opportunity for these professionals to interact across disciplines and obtain foundational executive-level knowledge for such an exceptional value.

"What an incredible opportunity to grow and learn the value of not just being a leader who leads but being a leader who brings the potential out of those he or she leads."

Martin J. Pflanz, P.E., M. ASCE and Geospatial Learning Product Manager, Bentley Institute

Emerging Leaders Alliance

Emerging Leaders Alliance

2011 Capstone Workshop

November 3-5, 2011

Westin Tyson's Corner

Falls Church, VA, USA

(Near Washington, DC's Dulles Airport)

Ways to Participate :

Send Participants

$750 each for ELA Partners

(8 seat commitment)

$1,500 each (non-partner rate)

Support the Event

Conference Sponsorships available

Purchase Sessions Online

$69 each; $499 for 12 session set

<http://ela.sclivelearningcenter.com>

Become an Alliance Partner!

- Includes 8 Workshop Registrations
- Help Create Workshop Content
- Full Partner Recognition in the Emerging Leaders Alliance

For more information contact:

Chris McKelvey
The Association for Iron & Steel Technology
cmckelvey@aist.org
724-814-3076